SECT. 7. This act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved April 24, 1865.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

SECRETARY'S DEPARTMENT, April 10, 1866.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

In accordance with an Act approved April 24th, 1865, "to obtain the Industrial Statistics of the Commonwealth," a copy of which accompanies this communication, I have the honor to submit an abstract of the returns made to this Department, by the Aldermen and Selectmen of the various cities and towns of this Commonwealth in conformity thereto, touching their various branches of industry.

This being the fourth decennial report of this nature authorized and published by this Commonwealth, it cannot fail upon comparison with preceding reports, to strike the most casual observer, how rapid has been the progress which the State has made within the before-mentioned period in the development of our industrial resources.

The first report, published in 1838, exhibited an annual amount of industrial products of eighty-six millions of dollars. In 1845 it had increased to one hundred and twenty-four millions. In 1855 it reached the sum of two hundred and ninety-five millions; and is now augmented to five hundred and seventeen millions of dollars.

Thus the last decade exhibits an increase of seventy-two per cent.; while the population during the same period increased only three per cent.

This result has been arrived at within a period during which the country has been subjected to the strain of a distressing war, with a large proportion of our industrial classes changed from producers to consumers.

Although the increase of per cent. from 1845 to 1855, as shown in their respective reports, was one hundred and thirty-eight per cent., and that of population in the same period was thirty-four per cent., still the ratio of comparative increase will be in favor of the last decade. And we must further bear in mind that the basis for such comparisons has been increasing in accuracy as the schedules for returns have been perfected, as many of the values in the abstract of 1855, though much more accurate than either of its predecessors, contained many estimates rather than actual "returns."

As values of the same articles embraced in these returns vary essentially in different localities, according to their nearness to, or remoteness from markets, this will in some measure account for seeming discrepancies; though in some instances the difference in judgment will be apparent. While strict reliance cannot, therefore, be placed on the returns which make these tables, I am persuaded that the average of values affixed by those making the returns, is rather below than above the actual amount, so that in calculations for which they may be used they will be more than approximate.

I apprehend there is more ambiguity and less reliability attaching to the returns of the number of "Farms, acres of land improved, unimproved and unimprovable, &c.," than pertains to any other branch of industry embraced in these returns.

The idea entertained by the committee who framed the law for obtaining these statistics, was evidently to include those only who were technically "Farmers." In other words, those whose main business was that of agriculture. And in most cases the Selectmen confined their returns to those who cultivated "ten acres and upwards." This was uniformly the minimum adopted by this Department, in reply to the many inquiries from those having the collection of these statistics in charge, as to "what should constitute a farm." Yet in some instances smaller areas appear to have been returned.

But as the value of farms, lands and buildings, for obvious reasons, has been excluded from the Summary and Recapitulation of values, these inequalities will not affect the results of this tabulation.

Fractional parts of values or quantities have not been used, except where amounts have exceeded fifty one-hundredths, when a whole number has been expressed, unless as applied to some few articles, the production of which is extremely limited.

The interrogatories in the schedule for returns seemed to cover nearly every branch of industry likely to be followed to any extent in the several towns; and yet the city of Boston alone returned over five millions of dollars under the head of "articles not elsewhere enumerated."

The collection and collation of these statistics have necessarily caused an extensive correspondence with the various town authorities, and I am happy to bear testimony to the commendable alacrity and evident desire in most cases, of those having the matter in charge, to carry into full effect the object of the law; every town in the Commonwealth having made a return.

A comparison of some of the leading products, as exhibited in the abstracts of 1855, and 1865, is presented on the following page, which shows largely increased results, with the single exception of the whale fishery. The reduced number of hands employed in cotton, and the boot and shoe interest, which is quite marked, will very probably be accounted for by the introduction of labor-saving machinery. No return of hands employed in clothing was made from Suffolk in 1855, which now employs 20,684, of whom 1,479 only are males.

Hay,	13,195,274	– –	–	8,702,317	– –	–

The aggregate amount of industrial products for the year ending May 1, 1865, surprising as it is, and exhibiting, as it does, a grand total of $517,240,613, being over a million and a half of dollars for each working day in the year, with a capital of $174,499,950, and giving employment to 271,421 persons engaged in manufacturing, and 68,636 in agricultural pursuits, well illustrates the indomitable perseverance of a people whose natural productions have been said to be only "Ice and Granite," and whose industry, united with intelligence, has not failed to win substantial triumphs over the disadvantages of soil and climate.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER WARNER,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

NOTES TO ABSTRACT.

(1.) Cotton.—In Essex County, Methuen and Rockport give only the number of spindles, and amount of capital invested; Salisbury omits capital invested. In Hampden County, Ludlow omits to return gross value of stock used; also value of cloth, of pelisse wadding, and capital invested. In Middlesex County, Newton omits capital invested. In Norfolk County, Foxborough omits gross value of stock used, capital invested, and hands employed; Sharon omits number of spindles, value of cloth, and capital invested. In Plymouth County, Carver omits number of spindles, and quantity of cotton consumed; Middleborough omits gross value of stock used and capital invested. In Worcester County, Boylston omits gross value of stock used; Oxford and Sturbridge omit capital invested.

(2.) Calico and Mousseline de laine.—In Essex County, Lawrence omits to return value of mousseline de laine before printing; also value of goods before and after bleaching and coloring. In Middlesex County, Acton omits the number of yards printed, and Medford the amount of capital invested.

(3.) Bleaching and Coloring.—In Middlesex County, Lowell and Waltham omit to return the value of goods both before and after bleaching and coloring; in the case of Lowell the remark is made that "the goods are invoiced from various parties and no value" received with them. In Worcester County, Webster omits capital invested, but the remark is made that "the capital invested is connected with the cotton mills," returned under Section I.

(4.) Spool Cotton.—In Plymouth County, the town of Plymouth omits to return the quantity manufactured.

(5.) Woollen.—In Essex County, Amesbury, Hamilton and Newbury omit to return the amount of capital invested. In Franklin County, Warwick reports only two items: the pounds of woollen yarn manufactured not made into cloth, and the value of the same—all the other questions are unanswered; the towns of Orange and Rowe make no record of the pounds of scoured wool consumed or gross value of stock; Rowe also omits amount of capital invested. In Hampden County, Chicopee omits gross value of stock; Monson omits capital invested, and number of males and females employed; Palmer omits sets of woollen machinery, also capital invested, and females, (if any,) employed. In Hampshire County, Middlefield omits capital invested. In Middlesex County, Acton omits sets of woollen machinery, and the number of pounds of scoured wool consumed; Ashland omits pounds of scoured wool consumed, and gross value of stock used; Billerica and Westford omit capital invested. In Norfolk County, Dorchester returns the value of cassimeres manufactured, but not the number of yards. In Plymouth County, the returns from the town of Plymouth give the number of yards of flannel or blanketing, but not the value. In Worcester County, Oxford and Royalston omit capital invested, and number of males or females employed; Southborough omits sets of machinery, and pounds of scoured wool consumed.

(7.) American Worsteds.—In Norfolk County, Canton omits the quantity of worsted goods manufactured.

(9.) SHODDY.—In Hampden County, Monson omits pounds of shoddy manufactured, and value of the same.

(10.) HOSIERY.—In Essex County, Hamilton omits amount of capital invested and number of hands employed. It should be stated that the "woollen mill" and the "hosiery establishment," returned under the heads of Woollen and Hosiery, respectively, are but one concern, known as the Agawam Woollen Mills, formerly used for the manufacture of woollen cloth, but during the war for the manufacture of army and ribbed socks. The demand for said socks having ceased, the mills will now probably be employed for some other manufacture. Nantucket does not give quantity manufactured nor capital invested.

(12.) BALMORAL SKIRTS.—In Berkshire County, Hancock makes no mention of value of stock used, capital invested, nor number of hands employed.

(15.) HEAD NETS, &c.—In Essex County, Ipswich omits amounts of capital invested.

(18.) JET PINS, &c.—In Bristol County, Attleborough makes no return of the quantity and description of articles manufactured.

(20.) LINEN.—In Hampden County, one establishment omits the value of goods manufactured and amount of capital invested.

(25.) DRESS TRIMMINGS.—In Middlesex County, Westford omits the value of stock used. In Plymouth County, the town of Plymouth makes the same omission.

(29.) PIG IRON.—In Franklin County, Greenfield fails to report the number of tons of pig iron manufactured, value of the same, and number of hands employed.

(30.) HOLLOW WARE AND CASTINGS.—In Franklin County, Greenfield omits the number of furnaces, the value of stock used, and amount of capital invested; Shelburne omits the number of tons of hollow ware and other castings manufactured.

(37.) AUGERS, BITS, &c.—In Worcester County, Sturbridge omits the value of stock used.

(40.) MECHANICS' TOOLS.—In Worcester County, Sturbridge makes no return of the value of stock used.

(167.) SAW MILLS.—In Barnstable County, Sandwich makes no return of the number of saw mills, feet of lumber prepared for market, and value of the same. In Essex County, the Hamilton return is limited to "one mill," but it is said in a note, "20,000 feet of lumber of all kinds sawn for farmers." In Hampden County, Agawam makes no return but of "two mills" with the words appended in a note, "Custom Mills;" Chicopee returns "three mills," without other particulars, but adds in a note, "Custom work—keep no accounts;" Montgomery omits capital invested and hands employed, but adds in a note, "The mills (two) are owned by farmers, who saw lumber for themselves and neighbors."

(168.) FIREWOOD, &c.—The city of Worcester returns only the number of cords of firewood prepared for market—no other particulars. Throughout the State one hundred and fifty-one places make no return of capital invested, and one hundred and thirteen localities are equally silent as to the number of hands employed. These omissions are mainly, probably wholly, to be accounted for by the fact that the wood cut in said localities is in reality not "prepared for market," but for home consumption, and cut by the farmers, or the "hands" employed on farms.

(169.) CHARCOAL.—Throughout the State thirty-five localities make no return of capital invested, and twenty-seven make no mention of the number of persons employed, In Worcester County, Petersham reports "one man employed three months."

(171.) CORN BROOMS, &c.—In Berkshire County, Pittsfield, in Franklin County, Leyden, and in Hampden County, Longmeadow, omit returns of capital invested, and the number of persons employed.
